NERA
ECONOMIC CONSULTING

Associate/ Senior Associate
Information Resources, Europe and AsiaPac
Berlin

NERA Economic Consulting (www.nera.com) is a global firm of experts dedicated to applying economic, finance, and quantitative principles to complex business and legal challenges. For half a century, NERA's economists have been creating strategies, studies, reports, expert testimony, and policy recommendations for government authorities and the world's leading law firms and corporations. We bring academic rigor, objectivity, and real world industry experience to bear on issues arising from competition, regulation, public policy, strategy, finance, and litigation. NERA's clients value our ability to apply and communicate state-of-the-art approaches clearly and convincingly, our commitment to deliver unbiased findings, and our reputation for quality and independence. Our clients rely on the integrity and skills of our unparalleled team of economists and other experts backed by the resources and reliability of one of the world's largest economic consultancies. With its main office in New York City, NERA serves clients from more than 25 offices across North America, Europe, and Asia Pacific.

We have an immediate opening for a full-time Information Resources Associate in our Berlin office. This is an exciting opportunity for a creative individual who has vision and enthusiasm to join a global Information Research team with an established and expanding firm.

Description and Responsibilities
Reporting to the Senior Manager, Global Information Resources, the qualified candidate will have the following responsibilities:

- Work with global consulting staff on a wide range of research projects using information tools and proprietary databases to provide information for client projects and business development initiatives
- Participate in the knowledge management process working with practice leaders to incorporate their work product and knowledge
- Work with the global NERA IRC team in sharing work and experience and helping to build the research function in the region
- Contribute to the education and training of the consulting staff both with research issues generally, and with end-user training specifically
- Provide special research and support to the European consulting staff as needed
- Assist in marketing and developing information services to NERA staff globally
- Use a helpdesk system to provide quick solutions and in-depth research, current awareness services, and competitive intelligence research
- Work on special projects as assigned

Requirements

- Advanced degree in one of the following is required: information/library science from an accredited program or Masters (MBA) in business or economics or law ; an undergraduate degree in economics or finance would be an advantage.
- Minimum of 2 years' experience working in a research environment providing business, legal or financial information (preferably in law, energy, professional services or consulting firm) is required
- Understanding/knowledge of search techniques and database structures of business, legal energy or finance sectors using database services such as: ThomsonOne, Datastream, SNL, BvD Orbis, Factiva, legal databases (Lexis Nexis, Westlaw, Bloomberg Law, Oxford Competition Law), Bloomberg, CapIQ, Factset
- Ability to prioritize, problem solve, respond quickly to requests and handle a heavy workload requiring creative, analytical, evaluative, and interpretive thought processes
- Excellent interpersonal and organizational skills as well as strong oral and written communication skills
- Fluency in German and English is required and proficiency in one or more other European languages, is preferred.
- Proficient knowledge of Microsoft Office and SharePoint

The qualified candidate must be able to work a minimum 40-hour week Monday through Friday and additional hours as needed to meet time-sensitive deadlines.

We offer a competitive salary, including an excellent benefits package.
To apply for this position please submit your CV and cover letter by clicking on this link.